JESUS ACCLAIMED AS KING

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 21:1-16
GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest.—Matthew 21:9.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Children's Friend Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Hailing Jesus as King.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Welcoming Christ the King.
YOUNG PEOPLE'S AND ADULT TOPIC—Welcoming Christ the King.

I. The Preparation (vv. 1-5).

1. The sending of the disciples for the ass (vv. 1-3).

Christ told them just where to go to find it and how to answer the inquiry of the one who owned it. This shows how perfectly Jesus knows our ways. The providing of the animal on which no man's yoke had ever been put, according to Christ's instructions.

2. The fulfillment of prophecy (vv. 4, 5).

Some five hundred years before this, Zechariah had made this prediction (Zech. 9:9). Christ's coming in the way was to exact fulfillment of Zechariah's prediction. This is highly instructive to those who would understand as yet unfulfilled prophecy. If the prediction of His first coming were thus literally fulfilled, there is no alternative but to believe that those of His second coming will likewise be literally fulfilled.

3. The obedience of the disciples (v. 6).

The record may have seemed strange and unreasonable, but they obeyed.

II. The Entrance of the King (vv. 7-11).

1. The disciples put their garments upon the ass and set the Lord thereon (v. 7).

This act showed that they recognized Him as their King (II Kings 9:13).

2. The multitude (vv. 8, 9).

Some spread their garments in the way; others who had no garments to spare, cut down branches and did the same with them.

3. The city awakened (vv. 10, 11).

It was a stirring time, but a more stirring time is to come. This will be when the Lord comes in power and glory.

III. The King Rejected (vv. 12-16).

The immediate occasion of this rejection was the cleansing of the temple. To sell oxen and sheep and doves was legitimate as well as to exchange money in doing it, but doing it for gain was wrong. As soon as the spirit of avarice enters, the house of prayer becomes a den of thieves.

IV. The Nation Rejected by the King (vv. 17-46).

Having shown their unwillingness to receive Christ as King when officially presented to them, Christ now turns from them and makes known their awful condition in the following parables:

1. The barren fig tree cursed (vv. 17-22).

It was on the morrow after his official presentation as He was returning from Jerusalem that Jesus observed the unfruitful fig tree. The barren fig tree is a type of Israel. With its leaves, it gave a show of life, but being destitute of fruit, it had no right to occupy the ground.

2. The parable of the two sons (vv. 28-32).

Both sons were told by the father to work in the vineyard. The one refused outright to obey, but after words repented and went. The other pretended a willingness to obey, but in reality did not. The first one represents the publicans and harlots. The second the proud and self-righteous Pharisees—priests and elders.

3. The parable of the householder (vv. 33-46).

(1) This was God Himself. (2) The vineyard. This means Israel (Isa. 5:1-7, Jer. 2:21, Ps. 80:9). The Lord went to particular pains to gather out this nation and make it separate, bestowing peculiar favors upon it. This vineyard so well tended and provided for, did not bear fruit. (3) The husbandmen. These were the spiritual guides—the rulers and teachers of Israel. (4). The servants were sent for the fruit of the vineyard. These were the various prophets whom God sent to the nation. They were beaten and killed. (5) The Lord Jesus Christ, God's only and beloved Son, came into their midst. They knew Him to be the Son, but did not show Him reverence. They not only rejected the Kingdom, but the King who was the Son.

A Great Will

Look at a great life, and you will find a great will behind it. But it is not self-will; it is a will attuned to that of God. Therefore it goes forward on the road of victory.—Young People.

Believing is God

There is nothing, in fact, that you can undertake with so great hopefulness and assurance as a victory over yourselves if only you can believe in God.—Horace Bushnell

Job Work A Specialty

VERA

The new road from Vera to Wildway makes the hearts of many glad. The hard surface (sand-clay) has been put on in a short distance from the working force expect to resume work in a short time.

Liberty Chapel School had a play Saturday night, hope it was a success.

Mares received here last week of the death of Mr. S. C. Stevens, of La Junta, Col. Mr. Stevens had been in hospital six weeks, had undergone two operations, but his relatives here had been advised that he was getting along alright. Mr. Stevens is survived by two sisters, Mrs. H. W. Kinney, of Vera, and Mrs. A. G. Menefee of Richmond, also a son, J. W. Stevenall of Texas, a daughter Mrs. C. G. Sinclair of Detroit Mich. Mr. Stevens death was the third death in the family in less than two months.

The new markers put up reminds us that Appomattox is on the map, by way of being an important part historically in the old state of Virginia.

"Earn Food" time has arrived, Mothers, get busy and be prepared for cuts, "stumps" and stone-bruises.

HIXBURG

Mr. J. R. Pore, returned this week from Roscar V. Va. where he had been on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. John Charlton.

William Swan, Jr., is again suffering a severe attack of Rheumatism.

Mr. Baxter Davis is right much indisposed at this writing.

Mr. Wilson Hix was a delegate to Farmville, representing this neighborhood at the tobacco farmers meeting held their last week. One thing we hear from the leaders of the move for a new crop is stressing some of the ills of the old tobacco association. However, there never has been a word said about the worst one or one of the worst and to my mind that is how the poor "critter" was hampered by political intrigue and personal greed of the leases or managers.

Mr. Hugh Swan, of Bluefield, W. Va., was a visitor to his mother last week-end.

There were more people out at preaching here on last Sunday than had attended Church at one time here for a long while.

The farmers are anxious to see a good rain, the hay crop and also the young grass is suffering much during this month.

Most of the tobacco growers around here report a good supply of plants.

Rev. Reading and family, spent last Sunday in the home of W. A. Swan.

Mrs. Mattie Cash, who has been critically ill for some time, was taken to the Lynchburg Hospital last week, and is reported as being better.

Most farmers around here are about through planting corn, which is a larger crop than usual.

ROCKS NEWS

Mr. & Mrs. A. A. Baldwin, had as their guest Sunday P. M., Mr. and Mrs. Young, of Lynchburg, Mr. & Mrs. A. T. Wilkerson, of Prospect, also Mr. J. A. Garrett and family.

Mrs. Hubert Martin, of Lynchburg, is visiting her home folks here this week.

Mrs. Jim Ranson is by the bed-side of her sick Father, Mr. Rufus Richardson, at Cullen. Mr. Richardson was accidently struck by an automobile one week ago. We trust this bright old man will soon be well again.

Miss Gladys Ranson spent Sunday with Miss Laura Inge.

Mr. Goodman Ranson and his two daughters, Annie and Emma, visited Mr. Lacy Martin in Lynchburg Sunday. Mr. & Mrs. Walter Ranson and Miss Myrtle Dinkins accompanied them.

Miss Elvira Martin, of Lynchburg, is visiting in the home of Mr. Goodman Ranson this week.

Mr. Elbert Dinkins is at home at the present time.

Mrs. Ned Almond, of Rusen, is with her parents for a short while.

Saturday evening in April little Ida Dove Almond entertained a host of her little friends at her birthday party at her grand-parents home, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Anderson. Various games were played. All enjoyed Dora's hospitality very much. Dora was 6 years old. All left wishing her many more happy birthdays.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Mr. Stinson Returning With Naval Treaty—Fight on It Due in Senate.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

SECRETARY OF STATE STIMSON will be returning to the London naval conference sailed for the United States Wednesday bringing with them a ratified, signed copy of the treaty which the senate will soon be asked to accept or reject. The treaty was signed on Tuesday by the representatives of the five powers concerned. The ceremony taking place at the final plenary session of the conference in the room long the meeting room of Lancaster palace. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, Mr. Stimson, Arthur Henderson, British foreign minister, and Mr. Stimson all spoke at some length and then affixed their signatures to the momentous document. The conference then was adjourned, with the final session of the full conference and of France and Italy can be held only after the full treaty by diplomatic negotiations.

Though the results of the three months' labors of the delegates fall short of the hopes of those who spoke words of praise, they are by no means small. The treaty, though signed by all the powers, is in the main a three power pact between the United States, Great Britain and Japan by which these nations agree to limit the tonnage of all classes of fighting ships. America is to scrap three battleships, England five, and Japan one. The sections of the treaty adhered to by France and Italy provide for a six year holiday in battleship building, prescribe rules of submarine warfare and relate to the important phases of disarmament. The compromise reached between the French global and the British and American categorical methods of limiting tonnage was couched from the document but will be transmitted to the League of Nations for use by its preparatory committee on disarmament.

That the treaty would not have an easy time getting through the senate was assured when the plans of Senator Hale of Maine, chairman of the naval affairs committee, became known. He is leading the opposition and in the first attack on the pact will charge that its ratification will weaken the American navy and give the United States parity in the Orient.

It was said Mr. Hale found many admirers of the navy were hostile to the treaty mainly because of limitations placed on the American building of 8-inch gun cruisers and the increase in the Japanese ration. Senator Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Senators Reed of Pennsylvania and Robinson of Arkansas, are expected to lead the fight in behalf of ratification of the pact.

REBUTTAL evidence by the wets was heard by the house judiciary committee, the principal witness being Pierre S. du Pont, millionaire chemical and munitions manufacturer; Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, commander of the Twenty-sixth division. A. J. Mrs. Ella Boole, Elizabeth Harris, representing the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, and Dr. Clarence F. Buck, secretary of the Federal Dispensary Tax Reduction league. Mr. du Pont presented arguments and statements designed to refute the claims of the drys that the country's prosperity in recent years has been due mainly or in any marked degree to prohibition. General Edwards bitterly attacked the prohibitionists for putting through the Eighteenth amendment while the soldiers were overseas, told the bad results of the use of military measures in actions as a preliminary experiment and said the figures showing the excellent behavior of the American troops in France where they were permitted to drink wines and beer.

Declaring that "temperance" was his objective in coming from his farm in Westwood, Mass., to talk to the committee, he described prohibition as "the most intemperate thing that ever ate."

POSTAL substation leases to be investigated by a spate committee, and at least them already is being probed by federal trade commission. It is predicted that the inquiries will turn up a scandal rivaling the Teapot Dome affair. Rumors involve the names of high post office and other government officials, and it is expected that will be intimated to the League of Nations for use by its preparatory committee on disarmament.

That the treaty would not have an easy time getting through the senate was assured when the plans of Senator Hale of Maine, chairman of the naval affairs committee, became known. He is leading the opposition and in the first attack on the pact will charge that its ratification will weaken the American navy and give the United States parity in the Orient.

It was said Mr. Hale found many admirers of the navy were hostile to the treaty mainly because of limitations placed on American building of 8-inch gun cruisers and the increase in the Japanese ration. Senator Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Senators Reed of Pennsylvania and Robinson of Arkansas, are expected to lead the fight in behalf of ratification of the pact.

RICH RELATIVES SEEK LOST GIRL

Orphan Has Been Missing for 18 Years.

Seattle.—There's a fairy godmother in Seattle waiting to lavish her love and the good things of life on Frances Johnston, an orphan, if the right Hope Johnston can be found.

The search got under way when Miss Hope Johnston, 18 years old, left her home in Lynchburg, Va., after a quarrel with her mother, Mrs. Alice Johnston, and her brother, Marquard. For years Mrs. Alice has been searching for Hope's father, Mrs. Alice's brother, was killed in a mine explosion at Tuc in 1911 and Alice knows only of a broken heart shortly after.

Mrs. Alice's long search for her sister was brought to a close when Alice visited Justice J. B. Wright for information regarding Hope Johnston who had been given a suspended sentence of thirty days in his court for participating in a girl fight in a party dress.

Thinking the girl might be the one he and his wife had vainly searched for through the years, Alice obtained detailed information about Hope, but not only to shatter disappointment.

"I am certain she is not the same Hope Johnston," he said, "even though the police say she is the girl I had let go again so that we could see her. The information we have is convinces me we were on the wrong track."

Despite the fact that the girl in question had violated the law, Alice said he and his wife were ready to give her a good home, and also proved to be "the" Hope Johnston, "if she were not beyond redemption."

Santa Claus Role Does Not Fit Large Feline

Vescura, Calif.—Next time Tiger, the big cat belonging to F. Johnson at the Vescura subsection of the Southern California Edison company, finds himself on a roof top, he will not try to play Santa Claus and slide down the chimney.

Tiger did that while prowling around his owner's homestop and, as a result, spent several uncomfortable hours at the bottom of a chimney, with no more chance of getting out than the proverbial frog in the well.

His plaintive "meows" for help drew Johnson's notice. Unable to get his pet out, he called the fire department.

Sam, Overcome in Bath, Saved by Census Taker

New York.—The fame under the water heater in Sam Hanson's room went out while Sam was taking a bath. The room quickly filled with gas and in a short time Sam lost his senses.

He was awakened when somebody shook him vigorously.

"What's your name?" asked the man who had saved Sam's life.

"Sam Hanco," was the reply.

"Have you a radio?" the rescuer demanded.

The man who had walked into Sam's room just in time to turn off the gas and open the windows was Morton Kotzen, census enumerator.

Cook Given $22,000 for Lost Sense of Taste

New York.—A Supreme court jury valued a cook's sense of taste and smell at $22,500 in awarding a verdict in that amount to Paulina Goodman, forty-three, against E. Gates Barnard. While Miss Goodman was driving with her sister and her sister's child in October, 1927, a car owned by Mr. Barnard ran into the Goodman car. Several specialists testified that as a result of the accident the cook, whose skull was fractured, had lost her taste and smell.

"Things I Ate Hurt Me"

"I HAD a severe case of indigestion," says Mrs. Bell Buckelster, 7 River St., Piedmont, S. C. "So many things that I ate hurt me, I almost quit eating.

"I would burn in my chest. I had severe headache, and such a tight, smothering feeling. I would be obliged to eat a little, then I hurt me.

"A friend said to me 'Why don't you take Black-Draught?' I took it once week then to do my work. I began taking small doses after meals and in just a few weeks I could eat anything I wanted to, then take my small dose of Black-Draught and feel fine. I soon regained my health and strength."

Costs only 1 cent a dose.

Favorite Bible Passages of Daniel Carter Beard

Author, Educator, Expert Outdoor Life.

The Great Commandment:

Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.—Matthew 22:37-40.

Favorite Bible Passages of Mrs. John F. Sippel

President General Federation of Women's Clubs.

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help. —Psalm 121:1.

Comment: I am thankful that a part of my early education was the memorizing of many portions of the Bible. Never do I see a mountain peak or the hills without having this verse flash into my mind.

Favorite Bible Passages of Dr. Richard C. Cabot

Physician, Writer and Professor of Social Ethics, Harvard University.

My meat is to do the will of Him that sent me and to finish His work.—John 4:34.

Come unto Me all ye that are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest.

Take My yoke upon you, for My yoke is easy, and My burden is light.—Matthew 11:28-29.

Speaking the truth in love.—Ephesians 4:15.

Favorite Bible Passages of Frank J. Loesch

Lawyer; President, Chicago Crime Commission.

I am the resurrection, and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.—John 11:25.

Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.—Matthew 7:7.

In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength.—Isaiah 30:15.
